Supplies

- Liquid watercolours
- 1 small cup per colour
- 1 piece of 18" string per colour
- Several pieces of plain printer paper
- 1 book you don't mind getting messy
- Disposable gloves (optional)

Step 1

Pour your watercolours into individual jars, and place one piece of string into each. Leave about 2 inches hanging over the edge for you to hold onto.

Step 2

Fold your piece of printer paper in half, and place it in the middle of your open book.

Step 3

Take out your first colour-coated string, dragging it between your thumb and first-finger to remove excess paint.

Step 4

Place your string on the right side of the folded paper in loops, squiggles, or any way you'd like.

Step 5

Shut the book and press firmly while you slowly remove the colour-coated string.

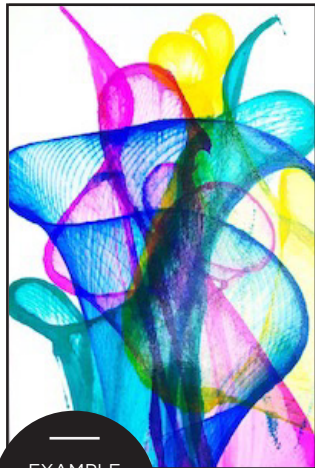

Step 6

Open the book and behold your work of art! Repeat with different colours and patterns to explore your creativity!
